GREEN CLAY WRITES ON NATION'S PROBLEMS

Green Clay, well known Madison county farmer, and a former newspaperman, sends the following letter to the Lexington Herald, which will be read with interest:

Richmond, Ky.

Editor, Lexington Herald:
Because a few hundred men refused to operate trains between Bedford and Switz City, Indiana, and prevented others by intimidation and violence from running them, the United States of America was forced to resort to motor trucks for carrying mail. The victory over the United States government was accomplished without bloodshed.

Postmaster General Work announced July 15, 1922, the resort to the new arrangements for carrying mail presumably in deference to the demands of these few hundred men who are part of an organization of hundreds of thousands of male voters. We regarding the use of the Atlantic ocean.

Coal can not be mined or delivered, food transported, commerce continue evenly because, according to the Lexington (Ky.) branch of our federated shop crafts, "Our third general and greatest reason for remaining on strike is this: the chairman of the United States Labor Board persistently and strongly advocates the destruction of our organization: the means by which we have improved our respective abilities and raised and maintained our standard of work."

The milk in the coconut in here, according to the shop crafts the labor board has ordered a cut in wages below a "living" (?) wage—the shop crafts being the judges of what a living wage is. The Bolshevik massacre of Herrin, Ill., yet unwhipped of justice, is one of the arguments offered ament a living wage.

Not one farmer out of a hundred has enjoyed a living wage for three years band running but there have been no massacres or holdups. For three years hand running hopes of buying reasonably priced coal for winter use have been blasted by the popping up at the psychological moment of a miners' or operators' or a partnership strike. It seems to be against the law of nature to settle these disputes in the slack season.

How long will the general public submit to this crude exploitation by professional politicians and class organizations?

GREEN CLAY.
Concerning The Tariff—An Inquiry

Richmond, Ky.
Editor, Lexington Herald:

When one can paint an airship an invisible sky color, put a silencer on it, rise and land vertically and fly 200 miles an hour for many hours with a ton of contraband goods aboard, just how will a protective tariff be enforced?

There are at least 12,000 miles of frontier boundary to the United States and one cannot use or hear an aeroplane in mid-air ten miles away. The greater the tariff the greater the incentive to evade it. What will it cost per mile to patrol the boundary successfully?

GREEN CLAY.

"MUNITION'S FACTORY" OF ANCIENT AGE

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 9—Ruins of what once was a flourishing "munitions factory" are sheltered in a cave fourteen miles east of Mill Springs, in Wayne county, Ky., in the opinion of Prof. A. M. Miller, head of the department of geology at the University of Kentucky.

This factory, according to the belief of Prof. Miller, produced arrow heads to tip the shafts of Indian braves to whom what is now Kentucky was no man's land in the days before the squirrel rifle supplanted the bow and the broad ax the tomahawk.

Prof. Miller returned recently from a trip to Wayne county, where in addition to re-examining interesting invertebrate fossil collecting horizons visited 25 years ago in company with an Ohio geologist, Prof. August Forster, of Dayton, he said he prospected the region for caves, rockhouses and old Indian village sites, favorable ground for archaeological exploration and the finding of extinct manalian remains.

"Two rockhouses and one cave were examined," he said. "One of the rockhouses was in the coal measure conglomerate at Denny's Gay, about 14 miles east of Mill Springs. Numerous arrow heads in various stages of completion, together with flint flakes scattered at a shallow depth over the floor of an overhanging conglomerate, constituting the rockhouse at this point furnish abundant evidence that this shelter formerly was inhabited by aborigines and that they had established there an arrow head workshop.

The other rockhouse, opening widely to the south, was near the Mill Springs camp, in the Mammoth Cave limestone. This house according to Prof. Miller, is a most promising spot for both archaeological and mammalian paleontological exploration. Half an hour's prospecting with geological hammers and a hand pick showed that every shovelful of deposit on the floor of this shelter was "pay dirt," he said.

A wealth of bone and pottery and flint fragments was unearthed, as much as persons could carry away. The large amount of fine material on the floor of this shelter which could not have been washed in from the outside, filled everywhere with charcoal, ashes, fragments of pottery, arrow points, flint flakes, bone fragments, and teeth prove that it was a popular resort for the aborigines for a very great period—perhaps extending back to the Pleistocene times, Prof. Miller declared. No human bone fragments were found here, tending to prove that the shelter was never used as a place of burial.

The third natural grotto visited—a true cave—was near the mouth of a small stream emptying into the Cumberland river at Ford's Island, about four miles above Mill Springs. This cave had been an Indian burial place, as was proved by the finding of a number of human bones, mostly on the rock ledges along the walls.

The Jacksonian Hotel, built during the oil boom in Scottsville at a cost of $100,000, was sold at Mr. Coleman Benton, of Irvine, was a business visitor here Monday.

Mrs. Hillary Kelley has accepted a position as stenographer with Attorneys S. D. Parrish and W. T. Short. Mrs. Kelley was formerly employed by Ronald C. Oldham.

The LeRoy, Ill., Journal, had this about a brother of Col. John Berry, of Union City: Word has been received from Dud Berry, who last week went to Union City, Ky., in his car. He said that he was two days on the trip, and hadn't played golf yet, but had game, on hand last Saturday afternoon. Dud may not get along as well in Kentuc, where there are many hazards as the Ohio river, Mammoth Cave, Henry Clay Monument, tobacco patches, Mason and Dixon line, cannons and the jutting crags and breastworks of the Moonshine Mountains to the east of the Dry Fairway. But if he gets in range of the bluegrass "green" you can count on his put and he will show the native that he can play golf as well as croquet.

In Swatow, China, 250 miles from Hong Kong, a typhoon practically wiped out the town, killing 5,000 people. auction for $42,000.

CHILDLESS HOMES

MADE HAPPY

Presence of Little Ones a Great Blessing

Four Interesting Letters

Cortland, N. Y.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was weak and wanted to become strong and have a child. My husband read about it in the 'Cortland Standard' and thought it might help me. It certainly did for I now have a lovely boy fifteen months old who weighs forty pounds. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends and you can certainly use my testimonial in your little books and in the newspapers, as it might help to make some other childless home happy by the presence of little ones as it has done mine."—Mrs. CLAUDE P. CANFIELD, 10 Salisbury St., Cortland, N. Y.

Married Three Years

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I am certainly very thankful to you for your Vegetable Compound. I was married three years and did not have a child. My husband had often heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and he made me take it and I became the mother of the healthiest little boy I know. When my friends tell me their bad feelings the first thing I say is, 'Take the Vegetable Compound.' I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. ANTONETTE MARANO, 113 Nestrand Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me seven years ago. I was run down and had a weakness such as women often have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after being married sixteen years became the mother of a sweet little girl. I now have four lovely children—three fine boys and the little girl six years old. I had longed for children all the while and wept many a day and envied every woman with a child. I was 30 years old when my first baby was born. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is ailing with female weakness."—Mrs. J. NAUMANN, 1517 Benton St., St. Louis, Mo.

Was Weak and Run Down
St. Louis, Mo.—"My mother took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was a girl, and when I was troubled with cramps I took it, and later when I married again took it to make me strong as the doctor said I was weak and run down and could not have children. I took it and got along fine and now I have three girls. So you know why I keep the Compound in the house. I am a well woman and do my work and sewing too."—Mrs. JULIUS HARTMAN, 2501 W. Dodier St., St. Louis, Mo.
